WALKERS' STORE.

OPENING OF THE NEW SPRING HATS.

A millinery show that will dazzle and delight all lovers of millinery taste and elegance. The breadth of representation is characteristic of Walker Store buying. Not a few pickings here and there, but as many from each of the foremost modistes as good judgment of "difference" limitation would permit. Tables, counters, cases—the whole Store is aglow and fairly thrills with the inspiration of highest artistic beauty millinery has ever attained—at least that is what we think, and believe you will think the same. From the smart London outing Hat to the dainty conceit conjured at Paris, there is grace, harmony becomingness in every one. We could neither show nor would you wish a better assemblage. Come

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, March 19, 20, 21.

The Show the Tailor-made and the Dressmaker Made.

The Costume show is supplementary to the millinery show, and a view of delightful Gowns, Waists and Skirts it is. Superb Silks, Laces, Dainty Organdies from the dressmaker; handsome, dignified and stately cloths from the tailor man. Description of each beauty would fill newspaper columns, so just three to awaken curiosity to further investigation.

White Silk, Chiffon, Lace, are the simple stuffs that make a waist of greatest beauty. Alternate rows of silk and lace are put on in run-around fashion, front of Chiffon, in intricate design and applied lace ornaments. Elegant and rich.

Organdie Gown of dainty pastel shade over white silk drop Skirt, with finely knife plaited ruffle, tiny ruffles on outer skirt, bodice a bloom of lace and ribbons.

Tailor costume of Lavender Broadcloth, modified Eton Jacket, with cluster of lilac blooms put on in crescents over heavily stitched lavender Satin panels, collar and front; under bodice of white net, skirt has new tucking box plait effect, lined throughout with lavender silk. A costume unique original, elegant.

Come Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and in easy view, Gowns appropriate for dinner, reception and street.

Beauty in Little Boys' Clothing.

Mothers have no cause for complaint this season that beauty and novelty are confined to little girls' dresses. Read of these dainty Suits for the tiny boy, but see them for fullest appreciation. Russian Blouse Suits with knickerbocker trousers—white and dainty shades—two collars, one of self, the other of handsome silk and adjustable; serges and venetian cloths. Vestee Suits, two styles, coat with long roll collar, round corners, a la papa, also the wide sailor collar kinds, little vestees beautifully trimmed. Norfolk Jacket Suits, stylish and handsome looking. Plenty of newness, too, in the rough and tumble every-day Suits of Cheviots, Cassimeres, Serges, Worsteds. Show days Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday.

Notable Dress Novelties.

An ideal collection which the best experts on such matters—our women patrons—have lavishly congratulated us upon gathering. Representative novelty weaves are they from two continents, with the distinguishing mark that yours is yours only, for there's but one of a kind. We shall be careful that the fine things you buy find no duplicates. For your guidance, just a mention in these:

The beautiful Handkerchiefs of richest silks for Waists; fifty kinds. The silk Waist lengths in lace, drawn work and hemstitch effects and the all-over laces—Venese, Russian, Arabian Renaissance for Waists entire.

FOULARDS—The best of all that Fashion holds for the new season. One dress pattern only in each kind. These exquisite hues—Resedas, Rose, Helios, Castors, Reds, Blues and Greens.

TAFETAS—Besides the new spring darker shades about fifteen of the soft, beautiful pastel tints, and best of all, we have this season the "Forte Brand," the only wear resisting Taffeta made.

ROBES—Jeweled Effects, broadcloth applied on Point d'Esprit, India Linen applied on Point d'Esprit—white, pink, blue, helio.

Imported Dress Patterns in soft, clinging weaves. Come in the new low pastel shades and the beautiful darker colorings for 1900.

MISSSES' DRESS GOODS—Exquisite pastel plaids, broken plaids and other handsome weaves suitable for Misses' styles—a most interesting assemblage, which all mothers should see.

New Dress Trimmings.

You may count the day as one not filled with all the beauty feast it might have been if millinery absorbs your thought to the extent of overlooking the new Dress Trimmings. Every dainty bit, every bit of elegance that magical fingers could weave into unusual novelty to emphasize and harmonize beauty in gown making is here for your help and guidance. Fringes—plain silk kinds to jet spangled and richly beaded; nets spangled, different widths and shapes for bodice or skirt; new kinds of appliques, some with renaissance lace edge; lace Jackets, ruffles, odd shaped pieces—Arabian Lace, one of the season's popular favorites for yoke and skirt trimming—but what's the use trying to tell; see them.
